

U. S. Will Try Closeup Photos of the Moon

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States will try next week to send a Ranger 3 spacecraft on a 66-hour trip to the moon to take closeup pictures and land an instrument package to record moonquakes.

The launching, set for Monday, may kick off this nation's greatest week in the space age. The attempt to launch Astronaut John H. Glen Jr. into orbit about the earth is scheduled for Wednesday, and on Wednesday or Thursday the Navy will try to boost aloft five satellites with a single rocket.

The Glen and quintuple satellite firings have not been announced officially. But the National Aeronautics and Space Administration released details today on the Ranger moon shot.

Monday is the first day of a five-day period in which the moon—about 235,000 miles away—is in a favorable position for the launching. If the Atlas-Agena B booster rocket is not fired in this time, the shot will be postponed until the next optimum period, which occurs every 28 days.

Commenting on the odds for success, NASA said "the assignment is so complex" that it has "assigned three identical spacecraft to the task in the hope that one of the three will be successful."

Rangers 1 and 2 were fired last fall to test techniques for the moon landing vehicles. Neither was aimed at the moon and each was only partially successful.

The 727-pound Ranger 3 is the first of a long series of vehicles the space agency plans to send towards the moon in the next few years to probe lunar mysteries in preparation for landing a man on the moon, hopefully by 1967.

If Ranger 3 is successful, it will produce the clearest—but still crude—pictures ever made of the moon and will mark the first landing of a "live" instrument package on the surface.

The Soviet Union successfully launched two lunar vehicles in 1959. On Sept. 13, Soviet scientists crashed Lunik II on the moon, but it relayed no data after striking. And on Oct. 4 they whirled Lunik III into a gigantic orbit around earth and moon and took the first pictures of the moon's farside.

The Soviet moon pictures were taken from a distance of 37,284 miles. The television camera in Ranger 3 is to operate when the spacecraft reaches within 2,400 miles of the moon and continue photographing down to an altitude of 15 miles. The pictures will be relayed to NASA's jet propulsion laboratory facility at Goldstone, Calif.

At 15 miles, Ranger 3 is to detach a 36-inch sphere. A small reverse rocket will fire to slow the speed of the ball from 6,000 miles per hour to about 80 m.p.h. before it hits the moon.

Inside the capsule is a seismometer and a radio transmitter designed to relay data to earth for 30 to 60 days. The highly sensitive seismometer will measure moonquakes and meteorite hits on the moon.

Space Booster Has Many Parts

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—What does it take to build a Saturn superbooster for space flights? Among other things it takes a total of 3,000 electronic and electromechanical parts ranging in size from a pinhead to a softball. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration listed that many items in the latest edition of the "Blue Book," an inventory of Saturn parts.

Inter-American Group Lashes Fidel Castro

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Inter-American Peace Committee today denounced the Fidel Castro regime's ties with communism, subversive activities, and violations of human rights.

The report said these factors are the principal cause of international tension in the Americas and constitute "political aggressions." "Such acts represent attacks upon inter-American peace and security as well as on the sovereignty and political independence of the American states, and therefore constitute a serious violation of fundamental principles of the inter-American system," it declared.

The peace committee is an autonomous body which functions through the Organization of American States. It had been given the task of investigating charges by the Peruvian government that Cuba was engaged in an effort to promote subversive activities in the Americas and that it had systematically violated the rights of its own citizens.

The report was approved unanimously by the five members of the committee—El Salvador, Uruguay, Columbia, Venezuela & the United States. It will be submitted to the Jan. 22 foreign ministers conference at Punta del Este, Uruguay.

In support of its conclusion that "the present government of Cuba has tied itself to the Sino-Soviet bloc" and "has separated itself from the inter-American system and repudiated obligations and commitments stipulated in other instruments on which the system is based," the report cites:

1. Castro's own statement last Dec. 1, that he is "a Marxist-Leninist and I shall be one until the last day of my life."
2. A speech by President Osvaldo Dorticos, who said last September in Moscow that Cuba has "taken the route of socialism and there will be no force capable of

Many State Projects Included

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy recommended today an appropriation of $70.5 million for flood control projects on the lower Mississippi River and its major tributaries in the year starting July 1.

For the current year Congress voted $72,950,000 for this program, which includes river, channel and bank reclamation work on the Mississippi River below Cape Girardeau, Mo., and on various tributary streams.

Congress has authorized a total outlay of $1,555,016,000 for the lower Mississippi work. The appropriation recommended today, if voted, will bring total appropriations for the program to more than $1 billion and leave a balance of $429,697,000 in the authorized amount.

As recommended by the President, the $70.5 million appropriation for the next fiscal year would include these items:

- General investigations—$125,000.
- Advance planning—$100,000.
- Construction — Mississippi River Levees, $2,200,000; channel improvements, $25,500,000; Memphis Harbor, $800,000; Old River control, $4,200,000; St. Francis Basin, $3,900,000; lower Arkansas River, $500,000; Texas Basin, Ark., and La., $1,775,000; Yazoo Basin, Miss., $5,660,000; Atchafalaya Basin, $4,900,000; Lake Pontchartrain, $76,000; lower White River, $850,000; Wolf River and tributaries, $10,000; West Tennessee tributaries, $60,000; Greenville Harbor, Miss., $1,530,000.

Broiler Chick Production Up in U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Production of broiler-type chickens increased seven per cent last year over 1960, totaling 2.11 billion, the Agriculture Department reported today.

This increase contributed to a decline in prices to producers for broilers and demands by some segments of the industry for federal controls to limit production. But the year ended with production on the decline. December production was one per cent smaller than a year earlier.

A nine per cent increase last year was reported in hatching of chicks for egg-laying purpose. The number totaled 523 million.

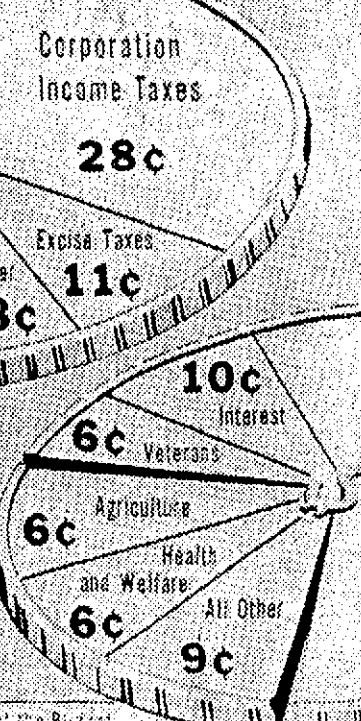

Hatchings of turkey poult in 1961 were reported at 99,932,000, up 21 per cent over 1960. Turkey prices, like broiler, also dipped sharply to lead also to moves by the industry and the department to set up turkey production controls.

Snow, Sleet Is Falling in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scattered snow and sleet began falling in Arkansas today, and the U. S. Weather Bureau said there might be snow accumulations of as much as three inches in the mountainous northwest by Friday. There was no immediate indication the fall would approach last week's storm, when snow of up to eight inches and more was dumped on the state.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said the snow which started this morning was light and intermittent and didn't follow any discernible pattern as far as the extent of its fall was concerned.

However, the Searcy Citizen reported that an inch was on the ground at Searcy.

Most points which reported the morning snow said it wasn't sticking.

At some places it was mixed with sleet.

Light rain fell in some places where there was no snow.

Areas in which snow flurries were reported included Conway, Newport, Harrison, Calico Rock, Mountain Home, Hot Springs and Little Rock.

The forecast was for cloudy and colder this afternoon, tonight and Friday with rain in the south, snow mixed with sleet in the northeast and snow in the northwest.

Hope Native Killed in Missouri

PASCOLA, Mo. (AP)—Authorities said today Willie David Hicks, ex-convict sought in the strangulation slaying Tuesday of a Pascola woman, apparently is in Arkansas.

Mrs. Annie Neal, 60, a native of Hope, Arkansas, was strangled with a belt from her dress, was found dead in her home Tuesday night after a search for her had been organized. The body had been wrapped in a bedspread and concealed beneath a bed.

Pemiscot County Sheriff Clyde Orton said the 24-year-old Hicks' brother told officers Hicks told him of the slaying. The sheriff said Hicks hitch-hiked a ride out of Pascola Tuesday afternoon with Coroner James Osborn and that a letter had been received from Hicks postmarked 6:10 p. m. Tuesday at Blytheville, Ark. Contents of the letter were not disclosed.

Authorities said Hicks, befriended by Mrs. Neal when he got out of prison, had been dating Mrs. Neal's 16-year-old daughter, Joy. The girl reported her mother missing upon returning from school Tuesday. The sheriff said $200 was missing from the home.

Farm Bureau Has Enrolled 493 Members

The Hempstead County Farm Bureau held met at the Diamond Cafe on Tuesday of this week. Plans were made for conducting the '62 membership drive. Wayne Butler, president of the organization, named Autry Wilson as chairman of the drive. Others serving on the membership committee are Clifford Russell, N. B. Coleman and Bob Huffman.

To date the Hempstead Bureau has enrolled 493 members for the 1962 year.

Cecil Guthrie, ASC office manager, talked to the group concerning the ACP program and how it could benefit farmers of Hempstead County. Anyone interested in participating in ACP programs should contact the ASC office in county courthouse.

Arthur Gentry, representative of the Coastal Chemical Corp. of Yazoo City, Miss., attended the meeting and explained to the board the recent merging of the Arkansas Plant Food Company with the Coastal Chemical Corp. A number of Hempstead farmers own stock in the plant food company and were interested in how this stock would be affected by this merging.

The board passed a resolution and appointed N. B. Coleman to contact the State Plant Board to see if the deadline of Feb. 5 for closing down cotton gin in Arkansas could be postponed. It was pointed out that a number of J&J Fruit Co. which was owned by Cline Franks, formerly of Hope and Jim Robertson, the loss of which broke into the Buick place Tuesday night, went through all the back drawers etc., but nothing was missing. City Police say.

$92.5 Billion U.S. Budget Includes $9.5 Million for Millwood

75% Involves Military, Space Programs

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, in the first federal budget of his own making, called today for record peacetime spending of $92.5 billion—a marginally possible only if revenues rocket and the price of mailing a letter is increased.

The 1,500-page spending blueprint, which covers the 1963 fiscal year starting July 1, foresees a spending rise of nearly $3.5 billion over the current level. More than 75 per cent of the increase would involve military and space programs.

Kennedy told Congress he expects outlays to total slightly more than $92.5 billion — an amount exceeded only twice before, during World War II. Revenues were estimated at $93 billion, an unprecedented level $11 billion higher than this year's income.

Highlighting the 7,400-word budget message which Kennedy sent to Capitol Hill were these recommendations:

Water Projects in Arkansas $90 Million

By CHARLES HASLET

WASHINGTON (AP)—Appropriation of some $90 million for continued construction of planning of Arkansas River navigation and multiple purpose and flood control projects in Arkansas and Oklahoma was recommended today in President Kennedy's budget for the year starting July 1.

He asked $18 million in construction money for continuing work on the bank stabilization and navigation project in both states.

And he proposed $2 million in planning funds for navigation locks and dams.

Requests for projects in Arkansas included $16 million for continued work on Dardanelle Lock and dam and $300,000 for planning of Ozark Lock and Dam.

Other recommended appropriations for Arkansas, in addition to the Arkansas River projects, included $14 million in construction funds for Beaver Reservoir; $9.5 million for Millwood Reservoir; $4.9 million for Greers Ferry reservoir and $950,999 for DeGray Reservoir. The over-all Arkansas total was $69.4 million.

For Oklahoma, the total recommended was $56.3 million for construction, not including the Arkansas River navigation funds, and $656,000 for planning.

An appropriation of $31,300,000 was asked for continuing work on Tugala Dam and Reservoir, and $21,000,000 was recommended for further construction at Keystone Reservoir. Both these projects are in Oklahoma.

Other requests for Oklahoma included $3,400,000 for Broken Bow Reservoir and $600,000 for Pine Creek Reservoir.

Other Arkansas-related projects: Construction: Bull Shoals reservoir, units 7-8, $3,000,000; Red River at Garland City $150,000; Red River below Denison Dam $300,000.

Planning: De Queen reservoir $5,000; Gilliam Reservoir $90,000; Quachita and Black Rivers $235,000.

5. "The acceptance of the Cuban government of the offer of military aid made by the Soviet Union," particularly a Soviet offer to aid Cuba with rockets in case of an armed intervention against Cuba.

The committee said Cuba is engaged in an unceasing campaign of propaganda, through radio and printed matter, aimed "at defaming the governments of the other countries of the hemisphere, and even inciting violent subversion of legally constituted regimes."

The group added that it has received information from various governments "that the repeated and numerous trips to Cuba of citizens belonging to Communist or extreme leftist political groups have been for the purpose of instructing the said citizens in typical methods of subversive activity."

Further, the report said, "in some countries the intervention and direct participation of Cuban diplomatic agents in their internal affairs has been revealed."

With regard to human rights violations, the committee noted summary executions of persons accused of counterrevolutionary crimes, travel restrictions on Cuban citizens, lack of freedom of expression, lack of religious freedom and violations of the convention on political asylum.

Undecided on Firing ESD Workers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he had not decided what to do about three Employment Security Division supervisory workers the federal government has ordered the state to fire.

Faubus indicated he feels federal action actually was directed at him.

The Civil Service Commission declared Monday the three—Luke Arnett, Charles Wood and William Watkins—were guilty of violating the Hatch Act by soliciting funds for Faubus' 1960 re-election campaign.

The state was given 30 days to fire the men or lose a portion of federal aid funds equal to double their salaries for one year.

Before the decision was announced Watkins had submitted his resignation, effective Feb. 1.

Faubus said he had discussed the matter by telephone with J. L. Bland, ESD administrator, but no decision was reached.

Bland was out of town today and Faubus said he did not expect to talk with the administrator again before early next week.

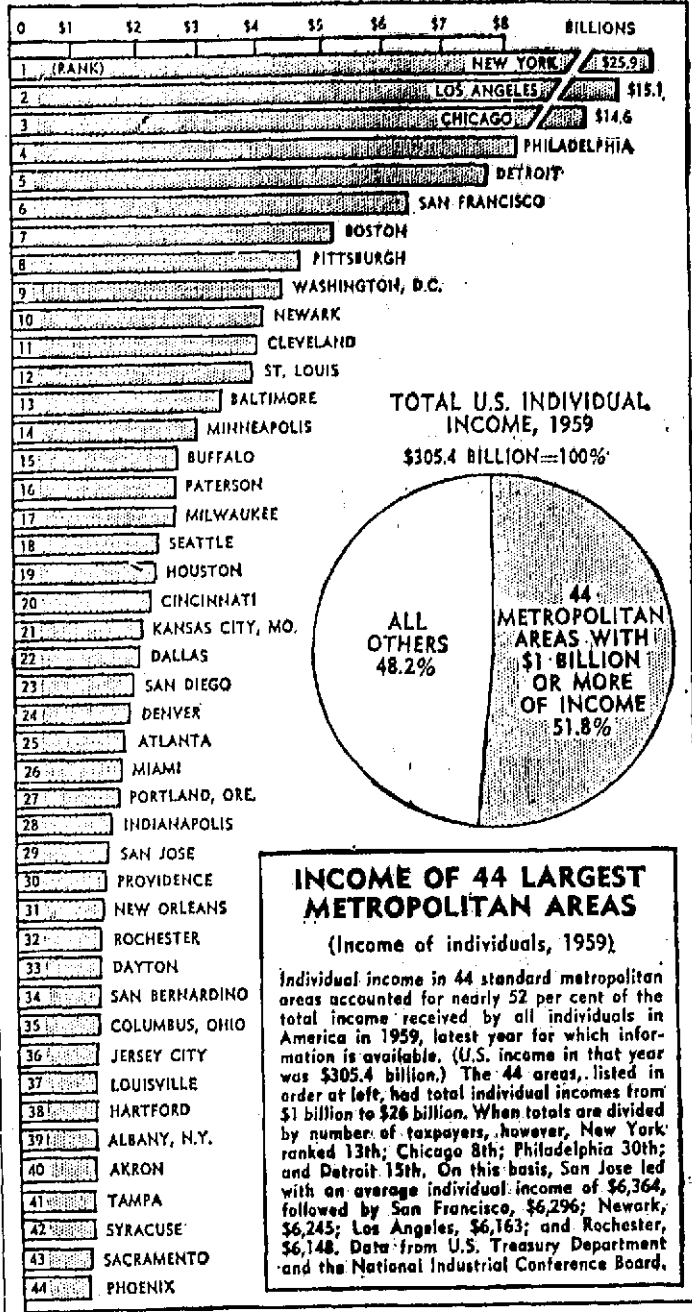

"I haven't checked too thoroughly, but it seems these people were found guilty of helping my campaign," Faubus said.

"There were charges of coercion but these charges were not proved. These same people (these alleged contributors) had contributed to other campaigns voluntarily. It appears that if the contributions had been for an Eisenhower or Kennedy campaign, there would not have been so much said."

"It appears to me it wasn't so much what they did as it was for whom they made the contributions."

Faubus said no immediate decision was necessary since the state had until mid-February to act.

"There's also the possibility the court," Faubus said, "but I don't know anything about that."

Individual income in 44 standard metropolitan areas accounted for nearly 52 per cent of the total income received by all individuals in America in 1959, latest year for which information is available. When totals are divided by number of taxpayers, however, New York ranked 13th; Chicago 8th; Philadelphia 30th; and Detroit 15th. On this basis, San Jose led with an average individual income of $6,364, followed by San Francisco, $6,296; Newark, $6,245; Los Angeles, $6,163; and Rochester, $6,148. Allocation of $2.4 billion for space research, an increase of $1.3 billion.

A foreign aid program boosted by $200 million to $3.9 billion. But along with that spending figure, which includes $2.5 billion in economic aid and $1.4 billion military aid, Kennedy asked nearly $5 billion of new funds. The new money would include $3.39 billion for various economic aid programs and $1.5 billion for military aid.

Repeal of the 10 per cent tax on rail, bus and boat fares, with later adjustments in aviation taxes.

Enactment of a new farm bill designed to cut farm program spending from $6.3 billion to $5.8 billion.

Increase the "temporary" $280 billion national debt limit to a new high of $308 billion.

Increase postal rates by about $600 million a year.

The new budget assumes that the Berlin crisis will cool off enough to permit the return home by June 30 of military reservists mobilized last fall. Any heightening of cold war tensions could prompt new hikes in defense spending and wipe out the indicated surplus.

Kennedy also based his projections on an assumption that the economy will continue to expand briskly into 1963, though perhaps at a lesser rate as time passes. The President said major economic records will be broken month after month while the unemployment rate will drop from 6.1 per cent to 4 per cent by mid-1963.

The fate of the postal rate request, which has been shelved three years running, also will have a major impact on the budget. Without higher rates (including a 5 cent letter charge) to add to the anticipated big increase in tax collections, Kennedy's envisioned surplus would evaporate—barring major economy moves in other areas.

Many congressional Republicans — and some Democrats — were ready to demand greater economy and a bigger surplus in order to whittle down the record national debt, now nudging the $298 billion ceiling.

Anticipating this, Kennedy said a $463 million surplus would reflect "the best national policy." He said deficit spending might promote inflation while a larger surplus "would risk choking off economic recovery and contributing to a premature downturn."

A surplus as small as the one forecast by Kennedy would represent a big change from the indicated budget results for the current fiscal year which ends June 30. Kennedy said the current year outlook is for spending of $89.1 billion, revenues of $82.1 billion and a deficit of $7 billion.

Defending in advance his proposed spending increases, Kennedy said all new ideas for additional outlays were reviewed in accord with "strict standards of urgency." He said that, in the name of economy, "many desirable new projects and activities are being deferred."

The Kennedy administration, as one official put it, was anxious to demonstrate its support for democratic elements in the country. It is now no less anxious to demonstrate, this official said, its determined opposition to a revival of military rule.

Highways Ahead of Schedule

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Highway Director F. R. Oliver reported today that his department is well ahead of schedule in complying with a 1961 act which requires expenditure of $100,000 on secondary roads in each of Arkansas' 75 counties before next Dec. 31.

As a matter of fact, Oliver said, the department has gone far beyond requirements of the act in most of the 75 counties in which such work has been completed or contracted for.

So far, Oliver said, the department has spent $13.8 million on secondary roads since the act was passed.

It estimates $18.7 million will be spent before all work is under contract.

Meeting minimum provisions of the act would have cost only $7.5 million.

Oliver hoped contracts for the work in the remaining 18 counties will be issued before July 1.

No work has been contracted yet in 10 counties—Carroll, Clark, Garland, Hot Springs, Jefferson, Logan, Montgomery, Perry, Phillips, and Saline.

The report issued by Oliver today is required by the law—Act 150 of 1961—and will go to Gov. Orval E. Faubus. Each county judge will be advised of progress in his county.

The $13.8 million already spent has brought 264.3 miles of pavement and 10,930 feet of bridges, Oliver said.

The average expenditure in each county has been $252,000, more than 2 1/2 times what Act 150 requires.

"There were many cases where we couldn't pick out a project in a county that we could handle for anything close to $100,000," Oliver said.

"We had to work with complete projects so we would be building usable roads. We couldn't just do $100,000 worth of work and quit. In some counties we had to spend $300,000 to $400,000."

The act specified money would be spent for paving gravel roads and building bridges.

Oliver said the department was able to proceed with the work rapidly because it had a backlog of about $9 million in federal aid funds for secondary road work.

Federal money is provided on a 50-50 matching basis.

"If we got another such act in 1963, we probably couldn't meet its requirements," he added, "because we only get $3.4 million a year in federal aid for secondary roads."

The cornerstone of St. Peter's was laid in 1916. Work then continued intermittently for 120 years.

Few Facts of Life Around Arkansas

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Staff Writer

In case there's anyone who doesn't know, Arkansas had one of its worst sieges of bad weather last week.

Yankee-type snow covered the state and the thermometer skidded down to zero and stayed there most of three days.

It was the kind of situation which brings out the worst in man, but the cold spell had its bright spots, too.

Take Bill Gill, a Jonesboro printer who, with forethought, installed a small heater in his garage.

On cold nights he lights the fire and on cold mornings his car starts like in the good old summer-time.

So it was the morning after the big snow when the temperature outside was two below. Gill's car started easily, but he had overlooked one small item.

Outside, the heavy snow had drifted into a bank against his garage door and he couldn't get the door open.

So he walked to work, taking his forethought with him.

A Blytheville couple had trouble with an electric blanket. Both complained on waking one morning that they had slept miserably.

"Too hot," she said.
"Too cold," he retorted.
"What?" asked both.

Investigation revealed that the maid, in changing the bed, had reversed the blanket. When he was dialing his control for less heat, he was freezing his wife, who, frantically was turning her control to the tippy-top.

And another Blytheville woman used the cold to good advantage. Defrosting her refrigerator, she simply set her frozen foods on the porch instead of storing them in a neighbor's freezer as she usually does.

A Beebe couple had electric blanket trouble, too. They turned their blanket up to the top heat and snuggled down for a long winter's sleep.

For a while they were comfortable. Even turned the controls down. But about 2 a.m., with the control back on maximum heat, both got cold and no amount of jiggling the control would help.

Then the wife remembered she had changed sheets that day and had forgot to plug the blanket back into its electrical outlet.

Crossett was gripped in winter's worst storm, but Jimmy Collins, announcer for radio station KAGH, didn't lose his sense of humor. He signed off his disk jockey program by playing the song, "Heat Wave."

Just as the cold wave was expiring last week, Yuba Consolidated Industries, contractor on missile base construction in the Conway area, sent the Conway Log Cabin Democrat and ad offering to sell six 1½-ton air conditioners, worth about $240, for $120 each.

Before the ad was published, the company withdrew it, saying word had got around and all the units were sold.

"We could have sold dozens at that price," a company spokesman said.

Just goes to show, the weather can't get too cold for a "hot" item of merchandise.

Seven flags have flown over St. Croix in the Virgin Islands — Holland, England, Spain, France, the Knights of Malta, Denmark and the United States.

Dear Helen: My boy friend's parents hate me. I am 17, he is 19.

DOROTHY DIX Coffee-Break Beau Proves Blackmailing Svengali

By HELEN WORDE ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Because my divorce was imminent, I took a job to help support my four children. Through my work I met a personable man who appeared congenial. He was strangely attractive to me.

Every morning around coffee-break time he would inquire if I cared to join him. Our relationship became for more intimate than a coffee break. Though overwhelmed by guilt and remorse, I continued to keep clandestine rendezvous with him.

Finally after many months of passionate hours together, I begged him to let me alone since he was married, and until my divorce could be granted, so was I. He refused.

I moved and changed jobs. He found me, declaring he would broadcast our affair from the pouslopes unless I continued the liaison. He called me at home, at work, even at the hospital where I went for an operation.

I implored him to go his way and I would go mine, and still he follows me. I don't know where to turn.

Now he threatens to tell my husband. Since we are in the process of divorce, it could mean losing my children. The villain (I have come to loathe him) knows it. This is the first time I ever knowingly did wrong and am certainly paying. Frankly, I think the wretch is hitting back at me because his vanity is injured. What in the world can I do? I am at my wit's end. — Help Me

Dear Help Me: In a situation like this, we have only to look to history for guidance. When Harriette Wilson, a former mistress of the great Duke of Wellington, promised to reveal their romance in her memoirs unless he paid her off, the duke replied, "Publish it and be damned!"

Grover Cleveland's answer was much the same when an unprincipled politician threatened to publish certain facts concerning a purple patch in the President's private life. Give this Svengali of yours the same treatment. Only by having the courage to let the truth be known will you silence him. If he then talks, the public will see him for what he is. No real man ever kisses and tells.

Dear Helen: My boy friend's parents hate me. I am 17, he is 19.

We have known one another since we were kids. He is now a junior in college. His parents refuse to pay his tuition any longer if he continues to see me. If he had a job on the side, he could work his way through, but he hasn't. Do you think it would be wise to appear to break but still date secretly? — Lonely Heart

Dear Lonely Heart: To deceive the boy friends parents will only boomerang. He should either frankly declare his love for you and prove it by working his way through college, or you should terminate the romance.

If you love each other deeply and sincerely, no sacrifice is ever too great. Regardless of love, I would be better for him if he paid for his own education. Whatever the decision, it is more important to him than to you, for it can make or mar his character.

Dear Helen: I have been married 12 years to a sneaky no-good. My love for him has turned to hate. I have worked to keep our family together for naught. He won't even give me money for the necessities of life. I am going to leave him. Being unable to support the children, I shall have to leave them too. It's got so I have turned to another man. While I don't love him, he is kind and understanding. My husband is an icebox. He reads your column so please put your answer in the paper. — Frantic Wife

Dear Frantic Wife: Running away won't solve anything. The children should be the first concern of both you and your husband. If you are miserable, he probably is too, and that makes it hard on the kids.

You could be to blame as much as he. I know only one side of this story. Sad to relate, otherwise intelligent men and women stand the anguish and expense of a divorce rather than admit they are wrong.

Yet that is what you two must do for the sake of those children. To leave a man you no longer love for one you also do not love is being untrue to yourself. You are the only one who can help yourself do what is right. Begin by having the will to talk this problem over amicably with your husband.

If he still refuses to listen to reason, see a lawyer and demand separate maintenance for you and the children. Then begin building your life anew.

Send your problem to Helen Worde Erskine, care of this newspaper. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Divorces, Separations."

288,224 Get Tax Refunds

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service issued $30,578,197 in tax refunds to 288,224 Arkansas tax payers during the fiscal year ending last June 30, the IRS said Wednesday.

Officials said the number of refunds increased 6.3 per cent while the amount increased 14.7 per cent.

Refunds to 11,907 farmers, users of non-highway vehicles and transit systems amounted to $986,270, a 97 per cent jump over the previous fiscal year, the department noted.

Of the total refunds, 265,280 were distributed for personal income tax returns amounting to $26,963,850.

Facts About the New Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fiscal 1963 budget calls for: Surplus: A slim $463 million, replacing this year's $7 billion deficit.

Spending: $92.5 billion, up about $3.5 billion from this year. But receipts go up nearly $11 billion, to $93 billion.

Taxes: An 8 per cent tax credit to industry for new investment. Plug tax loopholes to offset the loss. Eliminate 10 per cent passenger tax on trains and buses next Jan. 1, but add aviation fuel taxes to compensate.

Postage: A boost in mail rates to raise $592 million.

Debt: A $10 billion hike in the "temporary" ceiling on borrowing to $303 billion, to accommodate a record debt load.

TELEPHONE TALK

Fred D. Gray, Wire Chief, Hope, Arkansas

Snow

We surely have started the year off with a good snow. Here at Hope the other day I was downtown during the snow, and several people told me that their phones almost went out of order, but after waiting for a little while the trouble cleared up. We had very little trouble caused by the snow. What they thought was trouble really wasn't. It was that so many people were trying to make calls that there wasn't enough equipment to handle all the calls. The telephone equipment is designed to handle a certain number of calls at a time. I think everyone in town was trying to call at once! So when something unusual happens, you might have to wait a few seconds for your dial tone. On Tuesday, the day of the snow, there was a record number of both local and long distance calls placed.

From The Mouths Of Babies

After touring one of our central offices, a second grade class was asked by the teacher to write about the things they learned that day.

One little girl entitled her composition, "You Could Never Without Your Telephone." That pretty well sums up the telephone's role in today's busy living routine, whether it's here in Hope or in St. Louis or New York.

She's right, you know. You could never without your telephone — never call a neighbor to exchange recipes, never call for repairs or service, never arrange get-togethers on the spur of the moment, or never chat with your family or friends located far from home.

Everyday, the telephone is a constant companion, giving you service that's useful, pleasant and necessary. Nothing else you use so often does so much or, to put it more simply — "You Could Never Without Your Telephone."

Togetherness By Telephone

Several years ago the telephone company made it possible for businessmen to conduct meetings by long distance conference calls. Recently, our company received a letter from a happy grandmother who tried the conference call for another reason.

"Our family was widely scattered," she wrote, "and though we often phoned, I never thought we'd all be together again. Then I heard about the conference call idea.

"All I did was give the operator everyone's name and phone number. In a short while she had us all hooked together on a single phone call. I can't tell you the thrill it gave all of us."

Togetherness is easy with your telephone.

Call by number. We're twice as fast.

Could Have Been Other Way Around

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) - Was T. J. Bailey harassing the ducks on Lake Overholser or was it the other way around?

It took a justice of the peace court jury just 45 seconds to decide after hearing this testimony Tuesday:

Clay Boyd, state game and wildlife officer, and Ace Marrs, a municipal lake patrolman, said they saw Bailey drive his motor boat recklessly into a flock of ducks.

Bailey said the ducks were chasing him.

Central Plain States Hit by Snowstorm

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A snowstorm spread across areas in the central Plains and a mid-January cold wave enveloped most of the eastern half of the nation today.

The new storm dumped snow across sections of eastern Colorado, most of Kansas, southeast Nebraska and northern and western Missouri. Heavy snow warnings, with amounts up to four inches or more, were issued for areas from southwest Kansas through central and northeast Kansas into northwest Missouri.

Light snow fell in parts of the Rockies and Great Lake region and northwest Oregon.

Although temperatures moderated slightly in parts of the north central region, subzero weather persisted in the northern and north central Plains, the upper and northern Mississippi Valley and in sections of the Northeast.

The coldest day of the season was forecast for New England.

In Minnesota, which reported a reading of 40 below zero Wednesday in Bemidji, there wasn't much warming. Minneapolis reported a low of 24 below.

The cold air that has kept the Midwest shivering most of this week dropped temperatures below zero in New England and near zero in sections of New York state.

Temperatures moderated slightly in sections of the South but freezing weather persisted in some areas in Georgia, Alabama, the Carolinas, Tennessee and Arkansas. Light rain splattered the Texas Gulf Coast and in Louisiana and western Mississippi.

Readings were in the 30s in most of the Southeast, with the 40s in north central Texas, Louisiana and along the Gulf Coast. The 50s prevailed in south Texas and central Florida, and it was mild in southern Florida with temperatures in the 60s, with Miami reporting 64.

Conway Raises Plant Site Cash

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) - Conway businessmen raised $100,000 Wednesday and took an option on 170 acres of land for a proposed industrial park.

Purpose of the move, according to Thomas D. Wilson, a Conway banker, is to attract additional industry to help offset an expected loss of federal spending on missile projects.

Total cost of the industrial park, including utilities, railways, and streets, is expected to be $235,000, Wilson said.

The 35 businessmen meeting Wednesday approved the issuance of up to $500,000 in $1,000 debentures at 10 per cent interest.

The debentures would be paid through sale of land in the park to incoming industries.

The site is located at the southern city limits of Conway, about one mile from the business district.

Robert Nabholz, Chamber of Commerce president, said that there are no specific prospects for industries to locate in Conway at present.

A non-profit organization will handle issuance of the debentures.

Castro Says Meet to Back Fire on U. S.

HAVANA (AP) - Fidel Castro says the Punta del Este, Uruguay, conference to open next Monday is a boomerang already turning against the United States.

Havana papers published today remarks the prime minister made to a group of visiting newsmen Tuesday about the inter-American foreign ministers meeting in Uruguay, where Cuba will be the No. 1 topic.

"The imperialists," Castro said, "will find themselves in a difficult position."

"Imperialism wants to set a precedent that no state and no people can change their social regime," he said. "This is something antihistorical, something absurd."

Reviewing the early stage of his uprising against President Fulgencio Batista, Castro said American and Cuban business companies gave money for the revolution only because "if they did not pay taxes for the rebel army no one could guarantee their plantations or industries would remain untouched."

A nationalization program was instituted after Castro ousted Batista.

NCAA Makes No Big Changes in Grid Rules

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The rules of college football got a minor touchup but no major alterations this year from the NCAA rules committee, which keyed its efforts toward curbing injuries.

The committee left unchanged the existing substitution rule after considering coaches' requests for permission to use as many as three "wild card" cuts.

Fritz Crisler, former Michigan coach who served as acting chairman, said he believed most coaches would find the committee's actions acceptable.

"The small colleges favor one rule, the universities like another," Crisler said. "I think, however, the majority do not want free, unlimited, unrestricted substitution."

The committee adjourned its three-day annual meeting after holding a special session Wednesday night to consider the substitution rule.

One other action came out of the night session, however—a decision to request stricter enforcement of a rule against piling on a tackled player.

The committee left unchanged the regulations governing player equipment. It said that before changes are authorized, a thorough assessment should be made of numerous player-injury surveys now under way or completed.

Crisler said the chairman of the NCAA injury committee, Ernie McCoy of Penn State, will be asked to survey all studies on football injuries, including one done by the Army, one by Cornell and Michigan and others.

More rigid enforcement was asked of rules against clipping, and words or signals that would rattle a team preparing to punt the ball in play.

The penalty for illegal shift was reduced from 15 to 5 yards to make it equal to the illegal motion penalty.

A team kicking the ball will be authorized to touch it within the opponents' 10-yard line and make it dead. Previously, such action was ruled a touchback and the ball was brought out to the 20.

The committee boosted from 5 to 15 yards the penalty for violating a rule that a forward pass or place kick held by an opponent cannot be kicked.

The committee retained the college rule that a visiting team has to change jerseys if it needs to contrast with the home team, but decreed that in high school football the home team should make the change. Formerly the change was obligatory on visiting teams of high schools as well as colleges.

Hall of Fame for Baseball Figure

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Ray Winder, Arkansas' grand old man of baseball, takes a well-deserved place in the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame tonight.

He'll be initiated with four other greats at the Hall's fourth annual dinner. Reservations are limited to members.

Taking their places with Winder will be baseball greats Rube Robinson and Schoolboy Rowe and football stars John Tucker and Carey Selph.

The crowning achievement of Winder's long career as a baseball executive came in 1961, when in two weeks he put together an entry in the Southern Association. The team finished third, won the playoffs and led the league in attendance with 150,000 fans.

Winder has been with Little Rock baseball since 1931, when he was named business manager of the Travelers.

He tried to retire in 1958, but the retirement lasted only until Little Rock lost its franchise and had a chance to get it back in 1961.

Winder's career began in the old city leagues in 1910. He became a ticket seller for the Little Rock Southern Association team in 1915. Then he as the team's road secretary and in the 1920's he operated successful franchises at Chickasha and Muskogee, Okla., and Joplin, Mo.

Then, in 1931, he returned to Little Rock as Traveler executive. He was 71 in 1961 when he came out of retirement to field a team that made the sugging minor leagues at heart. Little Rock won the Class AA attendance trophy that year, and proved that minor league baseball wasn't dead everywhere.

His classmates in the Hall of Fame are no less dear to Arkansas' history. The late Schoolboy Rowe compiled a great pitching record in the major leagues. Robinson was a great Southern Association pitcher.

John Tucker played on the original Arkansas Tech football team, and returned to his alma mater as coach and athletic director. He still serves in the latter capacity.

Carey Selph was Ouachita's greatest quarterback in the 1920s, when the Tigers beat everybody, including Arkansas. He later played major league baseball.

They'll bring the Hall of Fame membership to 21.

Utah's McGill
Leading Scorer

NEW YORK (AP)—Utah's Billy McGill continues almost unchanged as the nation's major college basketball scoring leader, but there's a dammybrook a-building in the scramble for the team's scoring lead.

Less than half a point separate the first five teams, the tightest race in history. The NCAA Service Bureau said today.

In games through Jan. 14 Indiana had the lead with an average of 67.54 points per game. It was followed in order by Arizona State (67.57), Loyola, Ill. (67.45), Boston College (67.44) and Kentucky (67.21).

McGill averages 37.4. The only other player averaging 30 points or more is Seton Hall sophomore Nick Werkman with 32.3.

There are two new accuracy leaders, Layton Jones of Auburn in field goal shooting and Tommy Boyer of Arkansas in free throws. Jones is now hitting .632 from the floor, replacing Ohio State's Jerry Lucas (.620) while Boyer has assumed free throw leadership from his teammate, Jerry Carlton. Boyer is hitting .947 and Carlton .920.

'Grass-roots' Communists Called in LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio reported a big conference of grass-roots Communist party leaders is under way in the Soviet capital to hear reports from the 22nd party congress held last year.

The broadcast said the gathering, which opened Wednesday, is being attended by officials of party central committees of the various Soviet republics. Chief party chiefs and district propaganda chiefs.

No advance inkling of the big huddle had leaked out, and there was immediate speculation in London that it might have been prompted by a continuing struggle between Premier Khrushchev and a hard core of Stalinists who feel that he is following too soft a line with the West.

The Moscow broadcast said the delegates heard reports on the tasks of party organizations for further improvement and perfection of organizational party work, implementation of the decisions of the 22nd congress concerning work with cadres and the public's participation in party work.

The broadcast added that the reports were being debated and the conference was continuing its work today.

The conference opening coincided with a new attack on former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, who had returned to Moscow Nov. 12 to fight a move to expel him from the Communist party after Khrushchev denounced him once again at the 22nd party congress.

The Soviet government announced Jan. 8 that Molotov would return to his post as Soviet delegate to the International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna, indicating that he had successfully deflected himself from expulsion from the party. But Pravda, the Soviet Communist party paper, denounced him anew Wednesday for waging "dogmatic and stubborn" opposition to Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence with the capitalist nations.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The grim concept of an asteroid bomb—a continent-shattering weapon produced by diverting a tiny planet from its orbit so it would strike the earth—was introduced today by a space scientist.

Dandridge M. Cole of General Electric's missile and space vehicle department said such a cataclysmic weapon might be developed sometime after 1970.

The theory involves using a Nova-class rocket to carry a crew of men or remotely controlled devices to one of the "close approach" asteroids whose orbits sometimes carry them between the earth and the planet Mars.

The idea would be to explode a number of hydrogen bombs on the surface of the asteroid in such a way that the tiny planet would be kicked out of its orbit and pushed toward the earth—striking with the force of several million megaton-type H-bombs.

In a report prepared for the eighth annual meeting of the American Astronautical Society, Cole said:

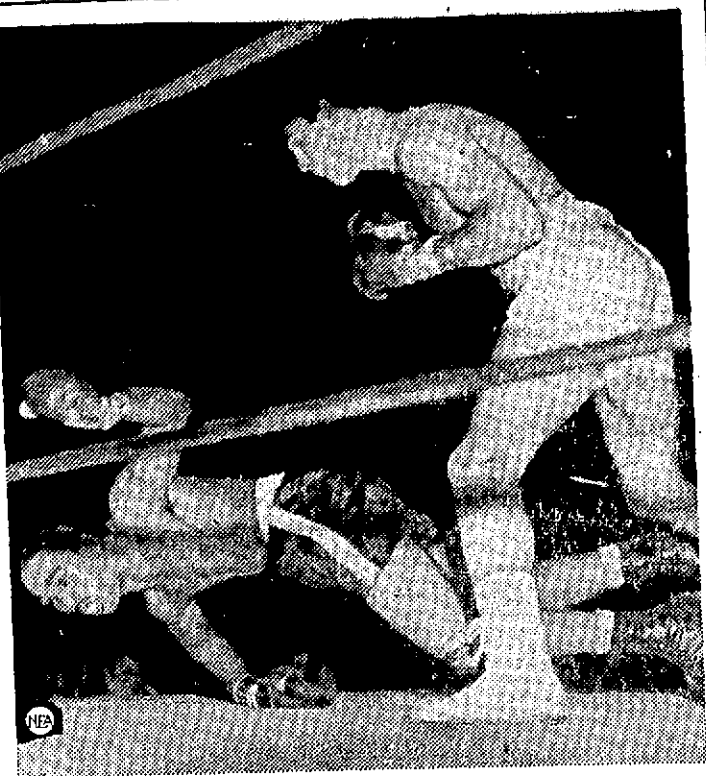

"This unusual weapon system shares with the biological weapons the possibility for masquerading as a natural catastrophe. The attacker could hope to escape blame and retribution from surviving retaliation forces."

He said that "while such an irreverent meddling with cosmic forces may seem highly implausible or even impossible on superficial examination," such a system should be feasible with rockets expected to be available in the post-1970 era.

In 1957, Sylvanus Phillips founded Helena at the boat landing where Crowley's Ridge runs into the Mississippi.

Energy Agency in Vienna, indicating that he had successfully deflected himself from expulsion from the party. But Pravda, the Soviet Communist party paper, denounced him anew Wednesday for waging "dogmatic and stubborn" opposition to Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence with the capitalist nations.

Dutch Want UN Observers in Guinea

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Netherlands government today asked Acting Secretary-General U Thant to send U. N. observers to West New Guinea.

The request was announced at The Hague as Thant pushed a peacemaking effort to bring the Dutch and Indonesians together for negotiations.

Thant asked Indonesian President Sukarno and Dutch Premier Jan De Quay to hold off any action as a result of Monday's naval clash off the West New Guinea coast and to accept his services as a go-between.

The Dutch message to Thant asked him to send "one or more observers or one or more personal representatives" to West New Guinea.

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP)—A 8 point! out pouring by Lavaughn Robertson wasn't enough as Arkansas College fell to Ouachita 74-72 in an Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball game here Wednesday night.

Ouachita, down 36-29 at halftime, rallied in the second frame and stayed off a last minute Scott rally.

Robertson missed a field goal at the final buzzer which would have knotted the score.

The victory was Ouachita's fifth in AIC play against one loss while Arkansas College sank to an even 4-4 AIC card.

Duquesne Has Chance Against Cincinnati

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Duquesne, a team that "didn't belong" according to the pre-season experts, gets a chance to "slay" tonight when it tackles third-ranked Cincinnati in one of the week's top college basketball attractions.

Duquesne, with 12 victories and only a loss to Villanova in the Quaker City Holiday Festival last month, is ranked fifth. Cincy is 12-2, after beating Dayton Tuesday night. The Dukies won over Toledo on Monday.

The only ranked team in action Wednesday night was 10th rated Mississippi State, which beat Alabama 67-40.

In other action, North Carolina took over first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference with a 66-56 victory over North Carolina State, Virginia Tech won over Richmond 67-54 in a Southern Conference game. Louisville surprised Xavier (Ohio) 85-60. Harvard gained sole possession of fourth place in the Ivy League with a 76-72 victory over Dartmouth. Penn beat St. Joseph's 66-60 for the first time since 1946, and Army ended Williams' unbeaten string at 12 with an easy 72-58 victory.

Alabama went into a first half stall, but Mississippi State showed the Tide how it should be done and gained a 21-5 halftime lead. Both changed tactics in the second half and the Maroon ran away from 'Bama 46-35.

Now—
Ford frees you forever
from the expense and bother of frequent car servicing.
Twice-a-year maintenance is here—
and only the cars from Ford have it!

In a new Ford Galaxie or Fairlane, the odometer rolls off a long 6,000 miles between every service stop. Compare this with other '62 cars and here's what you'll find: many cars still have to check in for service every 1,000 miles; some every 2,000 miles; others every 4,000 miles. Only the cars from Ford need service only twice a year, or every 6,000 miles.

Fairlane, you don't have to drive with one eye on the odometer to make sure you're not forgetting an oil change or a grease job or other servicing. Ford's twice-a-year maintenance saves you time, saves you money. Just one stop every 6,000 miles takes care of servicing. You'll go 30,000 miles between major lubrications, 6,000 miles between oil changes and minor lubrications, 2 years or 30,000 miles without changing engine coolant-antifreeze. Brakes adjust themselves.

Heavier Wilma Starts Training

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ten pounds heavier and fighting a head cold, Wilma Rudolph Ward, Olympic triple gold medal winner, is training here for Saturday night's invitational indoor track meet in the Sports Arena.

She flew in Wednesday night from her home in Nashville, accompanied by her Tennessee A&I teammate, Jean Holmes. Coach Ed Temple and broad jumper Ralph Boston.

Wilma and Miss Holmes are entered in the 60-yard dash. "I plan to win," said Wilma, a recent bride. She admitted that she gained weight during the winter on the banquet circuit.

Serve Chicken Many Times ... Many Ways

Chicken is wonderful! With the many ways it can be prepared, chicken can be served often... and should be, because it's plentiful and economical... and still be a tasty treat each time.

Have you ever prepared Coq au Vin? A French classic recipe prepared simply and easily with chicken parts, canned condensed consommé, dry red wine, and seasonings. To make the dish complete small whole white onions and canned mushrooms are added. All are simmered together for a rich blending of flavors. Your family will certainly appreciate you treating them like "company" for this is truly a festive chicken entrée.

A salad of mixed greens... dressed with an oil and vinegar dressing... is the perfect accompaniment.

In true French fashion, finish dinner with chocolate pudding served in individual soufflé cups or pot de crème cups.

Coq Au Vin
2 pounds chicken parts
2 cup flour

- 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon paprika
 - 1/4 teaspoon dash pepper
 - 1/2 cup shortening
 - 10 whole small white onions
 - 1/2 cup chopped celery with leaves
 - 1 medium clove garlic, minced
 - 1/2 teaspoon leaf thyme, crushed
 - 1/2 teaspoon dash rosemary, crushed
 - 1 bay leaf
 - 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed consommé
 - 1/2 cup Burgundy or other dry red wine
 - 2 can (4 ounces) mushroom buttons, drained
 - 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- Dust chicken with flour seasoned with salt, paprika, and pepper. In heavy pan, brown chicken in shortening. Remove chicken; pour off all but 1 tablespoon drippings. Add onions, celery, garlic, thyme, rosemary, and bay leaf; cook a few minutes. Stir in remaining flour. Gradually blend in consommé and wine. Add chicken. Cover; cook over low heat 45 minutes; stir now and then. Add mushrooms and parsley. Cover; cook 15 minutes longer; stir now and then. Remove cover; cook until sauce is desired consistency. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

The Year of the Eys Has Now Arrived

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — And now, ladies, the 64-cent (plus tax) question:

Do you have "eye radiance"? It is very important, you know. In Japan it is the year of the tiger, in Africa it is the year of the decision, in Europe it is the year of economic crisis. In America it is the year of the eye. The cosmetics people say so—and so they are almost as big in American culture as the cigarette people.

Do you have that sickly, post-holiday look? The cosmetics people seem to say in their releases. Maybe your face needs a shot in the arm (a neat trick), and the quickest way to make a comeback from the ravages of rejoicing is to choose one of the new, glamorous shades of mascara and eye shadow and lather them on.

There is nothing new about the death at "eye radiance" is highly commendable; many surveys of men have indicated that the male species look first at a woman's eyes—then at her legs. And it is quite true that eye makeup, adroitly applied, can cover a multitude of sleepless hours.

However, it seems here that loading the lids with shadow and larding the lashes with goo is not nearly enough. There are other rules that must be followed if a woman is to look radiant of orb. "The true clue to facial radiance," says Miss Joyce Jackson (author of a book, "Guide to Glamor"), "is radiant, interested eyes in a very quiet, controlled head."

"Keep your head quiet most of the time, but make your eyes jump with life. When you must move your head, the eyes should move first and the head should follow."

"Most people use eyes and head together, thereby diminishing by half the power of their facial expression," continues Miss Jackson. "Fish move head and eyes together. And that's what people mean by that 'fish stare.'"

The author suggests that a woman hang a mirror near the phone, where she can study her face, from the eyes up, while she's conversing with someone. The idea is that a woman should feel happy while she is conversing on the phone (this seems to us to be shaky reasoning, but anyway...), so she can practice smiling with her eyes.

"Nothing is more attractive than a genuine smile with the eyes."

"So practice smiling without closing your eyelids at all. If your eyes persist in shutting partially, just hold them open with your fingers." (If you get the knack. (This may be hard, since you're also trying to hold a phone and a conversation, but bear up.)

Miss Jackson also reminds that glamorous eyes can lose their effectiveness altogether if they are flashing away in a droopy head. To make sure, then, that your head is in the correct position to show off the optics—"carry it (the head) so that the lobe of your ear is on a straight vertical line with your shoulder bone... balanced equally between the shoulders... and aligned on a straight keel with the hips."

Miss Jackson points out that to many women great people—particularly men—by walking, literally head-on, into conversation. They tend to stick out their chins as they rush forward to greet someone. This, she claims, detracts from the importance and beauty of the eyes.

As she says, "you're never until your derriere is there, so why not slow down and wait for it?"

One thing has gone unmentioned here, and that is the truth that beauty is as beauty thinks. A woman with lovely thoughts cannot help having lovely eyes.

Isn't it too bad there is no cosmetic for the cranium—no emollient for the emotions—no make-up magic for the mentality...?

Knight's Exit Tightens Calif. Race

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—

Godwin J. Knight's exit from the 1962 campaign tightened up California's race for governor today.

Political leaders differed on the eventual effect, but most agreed it enhanced Richard M. Nixon's already bright chances for the Republican nomination.

Knight, 65, announced Tuesday he would not file for his old job in the June 5 primary. He was stricken last November by infectious hepatitis—a liver disease. His doctor, he said, advised against a strenuous campaign.

The decision by the colorful ex-governor removed the prospect of a Republican slugfest between Nixon and Knight, who had pledged a "real gloves-off fight."

It installed a hard-charging state assemblyman, Joseph C. Shell, 43, of Los Angeles, as Nixon's chief challenger on the Republican ticket.

Shell, an avowed conservative, has been making evident headway against Nixon's early commanding lead in polls. A wealthy oilman, he has delivered at least 400 talks throughout the state while Nixon has been busy on a book and other matters.

A third GOP candidate, former Lt. Gov. Harold J. (Butch) Powell, made a pitch for Knight's votes, saying "he and I always

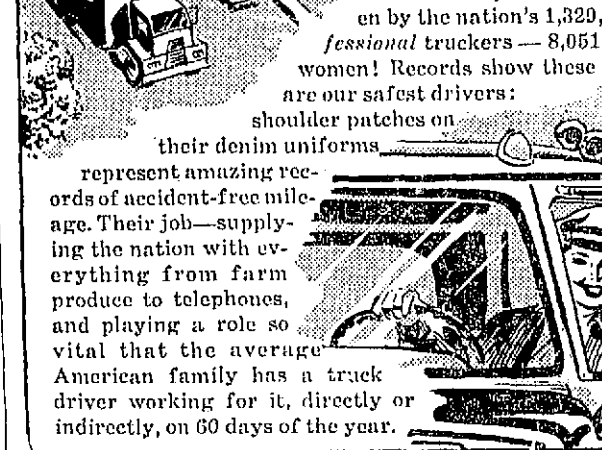

DENIM MEN OF AMERICA

OUR NATION'S TRUCKERS

"TRANSPORTATION U.S.A.", a display designed to show Russians how Americans move goods and people, opened in Stalingrad in October, 1961. From there American trucks in blue denim will roll on to Kharkov, another major Russian City.

Since over half the world's trucks are used in the United States, they are featured at the exhibition. The 11 million trucks serving America travel a total 115 billion miles every year. They include giant 50-foot tractor-trailers, moving on 22 tires, and driven with 15 separate gear shifts. Many of them are driven by the nation's 1,329,182 professional truckers—8,051 of them women! Records show these are our safest drivers:

their denim uniforms represent amazing records of accident-free mileage. Their job—supplying the nation with everything from farm produce to telephones, and playing a role so vital that the average American family has a truck driver working for it, directly or indirectly, on 60 days of the year.

Dutch Claim Indonesians on Mission

HOLLANDIA, West New Guinea (AP)—

The Dutch said today that three Indonesian torpedo boats intercepted by Dutch naval units Monday were on a military landing mission.

Rear Adm. J. E. Reeser, commander of the Dutch armed forces in this jungle territory, reported details of the torpedo boat action.

Fifty men survived the sinking of one of the boats. The Dutch said they will be treated as prisoners of war.

Reeser gave this account: The three boats were first spotted on the radar screen of a Dutch Neptune plane as they streaked northward from the Indonesian Aru Islands, 100 miles south of New Guinea. They were tracked entering an area 12 miles from the New Guinea coast, then sighted visually by a Dutch naval vessel.

One of the Indonesian boats opened fire on the Neptune. Shells from a Dutch frigate set that boat afire and it later exploded.

The battle then changed to a stern chase. The Dutch called off the pursuit 12 miles north of the Aru Islands.

A few of the 50 captives were Papuans of the racial stock of West New Guinea natives. The admiral said he could not say how many Indonesians were killed.

The boats were not Soviet-built, as reported here at the time of the action, but were Jaguar-class vessels built in 1959-60 in Bremen by the West German firm of F. R. Lurssen.

Ford Holds No Hope for School Aid

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Education Commissioner Arch Ford said today he has little hope for a worthwhile bill for federal aid to public schools from this session of Congress.

The big push now, Ford said, is for aid to universities and colleges. "The Kennedy administration has separated higher and secondary education in its program," Ford said. "This means the big drive this year will be for construction and scholarship money for colleges and universities."

Ford said the split did improve the administration's chances of getting some kind of aid bill through this session.

"But I don't think we'll get any significant help for public schools," he added. "This is disappointing, but true. Anything in the public school field will be an expansion of the National Defense Education Act to strengthen curricula in specific areas, rather than the broad purpose aid we need so badly."

He said the NDEA might be expanded to include English. The government now helps schools which strengthen science, math and foreign language courses.

The stumbling block for aid to public schools is the church-state issue, Ford said. "Some congressmen won't have any program unless private and parochial schools get the same help as public schools. Others won't buy the pro-

Pair Robs Church of Over $1,000

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—

Two gunmen in business suits and porkpie hats robbed the First Presbyterian church of more than $1,000 Tuesday night.

Nearly 200 persons were attending "new members' night" on the floor below when the robbers entered the church's business office and forced the business manager Robert Bruce Young Jr., to open the safe. They carried automatics, and one stood guard in the doorway while the other rummaged through cash boxes with his gloved hand.

gram at all if non-public schools are included."

Ford said he felt chances for passage of a public school aid bill were slighter now than a year ago. The Commissioner supports federal aid.

Rep. Cleveland Bailey of West Virginia has prepared a bill, Ford said, to eliminate objections caused by fear that federal aid means federal control.

"Mr. Bailey's bill would bypass the federal education department and give money to the states to spend as they choose," Ford said. "But there appears to be little support for the bill."

"I'm not hopeful for federal aid this year," Ford said, "and it doesn't look too hopeful for years to come unless there is a drastic change in the feelings of some key members of Congress."

The federal aid program has been killed three times by the House after the Senate passed an aid bill, Ford said.

Chocolate Bread Easy to Make

SOMETHING DIFFERENT to serve with tea or for sandwiches in the lunch box is this delightful chocolate nut bread... unusual, but delicious and easy to make. Prepared biscuit mix short-cuts the mixing procedure, and the tang of orange juice delicately complements the rich, satisfying flavor of unsweetened chocolate. Nuts and allspice add to the flavor of this bread, which may be spread with softened butter or cream cheese for dainty sandwiches.

- QUICK CHOCOLATE NUT BREAD
- 1 cup sugar
 - 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
 - 1 egg
 - 1 1/2 cups orange juice
 - 1/2 cup chopped nuts
 - 3 cups biscuit mix
 - 1 teaspoon allspice
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine sugar and egg, blending well. Add orange juice and biscuit mix alternately, stirring well after each addition. Blend in remaining ingredients. Pour into a greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for 50 to 60 minutes, or until done.

No Pink Worms in 1961 Crop

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—

The 1961 Arkansas cotton harvest was free of pink bollworms for the first time since the pest was found here in 1953.

However, Robert Anderson, chief inspector for the state Plant Board said Tuesday bollworm control restrictions will not be relaxed in the near future.

"We like to think our control program has kept infestation down," he said.

Weather was another factor in the fight against the damaging worm, Anderson said.

"We had a light infestation in 1960, followed by a hard winter with a lot of rain," he said. "That killed a lot of worms."

Good co-operation by cotton gins in using trash inspection machinery also helped Anderson said.

Only six bollworms were found in three counties in 1960. In 1959, 69 worms were found in 14 counties.

Plant Board regulations require destruction of cotton stalks in every field in the state by an April 15 deadline.

Budget Will Monopolize Conservation

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the most awful things about the federal budget—and it is awful if you're not good at arithmetic—is that it will monopolize Washington conversation for quite a while.

In two plump volumes President Kennedy at noon Thursday unfolds for Congress the national budget, his estimate on the cost of running the government another year.

One of the most delightful things about Kennedy's budget, in a gruesome kind of way, is that it is supposed to be more simplified and streamlined than any budget of the past.

The only one likely to think so is the superintendent of a digit factory. Nobody could enjoy this budget, or any other budget, except an accountant. Having to read it is like being sentenced to frustration.

Many people in government, thousands, have been putting this estimate together since last summer. The all-time peak for budget spending in any one year—$98,416,000,000—was reached in 1945. That was the big, climactic year of World War II.

Kennedy's budget is expected to be around $92.5 billion, the highest of any peacetime year. It is for the fiscal year beginning next July 1 and ending June 30, 1963. If this seems like a shocker, it needn't be. The cost of running the government has been going up. In the fiscal year ending next June 30 spending will probably top $89 billion.

The budget trend under President Dwight D. Eisenhower was up, too, although it dipped a couple of times. It has been that way ever since President Harry S. Truman's time when, after a post-war low point of $32,955,000,000 in 1948, there was an almost steady march up.

In the various departments and agencies of government, beginning last summer, officials began estimating their next fiscal year cost. Department heads went over the figures. They are supposed to cut where they can.

When all that is done, the figures go to the Budget Bureau, which not only is supposed to reduce dollars to peoples but insist that department heads justify every dime they say they need.

Contract Let

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Little Rock architectural firm of Stowers and Boyce was awarded an Army Engineers contract Tuesday for a fallout shelter survey in north central Arkansas. The survey area covers Baxter, Boone, Cleburne, Conway, Faulkner, Fulton, Independence, Izard, Jackson, Johnson, Marion, Newton, Pope, Searcy, Sharp, Stone, Van Buren, White and Woodruff counties.

After that the President and his advisers go over the estimates. The final, finished bundle, covering everything from pencils to missiles, is what Kennedy hands Congress.

Then the fun begins. Some members of Congress have regular reflex actions every year when the budget arrives. This time, before he ever saw it, Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., announced as he has in the past: "We will have to cut it."

Cannon is chairman of the House Appropriations Committee which will divide itself up into a lot of subcommittees and then for months hold hearings to quiz government officials on why they need so much.

Subjects for Science at Work

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mother Earth taking a breather from earthquakes; the possible magic of souped-up light; and aerial typewriting are among the latest subjects for science at work.

Bushed-out Earth
Although plenty of major political rumblings occurred on its surface during 1961, the earth last year was comparatively quiet by the standpoint of producing internal rumblings — earthquakes. That is.

U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey seismologists told a reporter the year was a weak one for earthquakes—with only a few really big tremors occurring, and these at widely separated places.

Their explanation:
Mother Earth was, in effect, pretty bushed after rumbling in real tough fashion the year before—when she loosed such major quakes as the Chilean one that spawned a great tidal wave in the Pacific Ocean.

Souped-up Light
Keep the name LASER under your hat. Some day, devices bearing that monicker may vastly increase the range of space communication; make possible knifeless surgery; allow transmission of 100 million simultaneous telephone calls; and even provide a new form of death ray.

Navy and other scientists say such possibilities are envisioned from still highly experimental research on the LASER technique, more formally known as "Light Amplification by Stimulated Emission of Radiation."

LASER is a system for amplifying and sharpening weak waves of light to produce a very narrow, powerful beam—and the ultimate hope is to employ optical waves in much the same way radio waves are now used.

Its secret is based on the fact that if certain chemicals, gaseous or solid, are excited to emit light—for example, under the influence of an electric current—the weak light will further interact with atoms if the material. Under proper conditions, the original waves of light are thereby intensified.

Aerial Typist
Now we have skytyping by airplanes as well as the more familiar skywriting.

As described in Ethyl News, five airplanes fly parallel courses in tight formation and shoot out staccato smoke bursts electronically. The idea is to get a sky-written advertisement out fast before poor weather sets in.

In the typing technique, one central-control pilot in the squadron operates a radio transmitter which sends impulses to receivers in the other planes—triggering smoke valves.

First to Milk Rhinoceros

BRISTOL, England (AP)—Stan Evans said modestly today that as far as he knows he is the first person ever to milk one of the world's shortest-tempered beasts—a rhinoceros.

Evans, 30, a keeper at the city zoo, is milking two-ton Stephanie, a recent mother, in the interests of science.

The milk is being analyzed with a view to concocting a substitute food for baby rhinos whose mothers are killed by poachers in Africa. If the experiment succeeds, it may save the increasingly rare black rhino from extinction.

The Russian city of Moscow was first mentioned in literature in the year 1147.

BEAUTY News & Views

By TONI WOODWARD—ANS

KEEPING hair away from face when performing daily grooming chores often can be more of a problem than selecting the right skin cream or lotion. Elastic headbands work but have key drawbacks: they're expensive, uncomfortable (particularly in warm weather) and have to be washed if stained.

The answer is in millady's medicine chest—a roll of inexpensive Red Cross Improved Bandage, normally used for first aid purposes. A length, wrapped once or twice around hairline adheres to itself, keeps hair put. One headband can be used indefinitely. If stained, just discard and cut another length. Improved Bandage, in 3-inch width, is ideal for beauty purposes. One roll makes about four headbands.

Television Show in Review

Television in Review
By FRED DANZIG
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—I'll let you in on a secret. Every now and then, a letter from a reader will arrive. While I don't like to pin labels on my public, the fact is that most of my mail is labelable.

There are those which urge me to join a crusade. They write, "Bring back Pinky Lee," or "More shows for Brink Lee and Hunt Lee." On that last one, I'm not sure if they're saluting a pair of newscasters or a couple of laundrymen.

Other letter-writers will take the trouble to advise me that they are unable to share my views about, say, "Sing Along with Mitch." A certain degree of hostility toward me sometimes creeps into these notes. Others write that I must be kind to "The Price is Right" because Bill Cullen had polio as a child.

As for the majority of the letters, ahem, only my natural modesty prevents me from summarizing the contents. Kuff, kaff.

And then there are the "second chance" letters from producers of TV shows that were belted the first time around. Generally, they say, "Dear Sir: Granted we got off to a poor start with our new series, 'Frontier Backwoodsman,' but we have improved considerably since then and may we suggest that you take another look next week . . ."

Of course, I always accept these "second chance" invitations. I accept them even when they're not mailed because, let's face it, that's my job. Besides, I'm always hoping the show will be good when I switch the clean screen on.

All this is by way of introduction to "Cain's Hundred," the letter from the producer's office arrived last Friday. It touted me on "The Debasers," Tuesday night's episode on this full-hour NBC-TV series.

The story, by S. S. Schweitzer, made a stab at gauging the effect of corruption on character, as the letter said it would. Neville Brand made it all too cut-and-dried in the role of a mighty industrialist who peddled pornographic literature on the side and employed a public relations expert to gold-plate his public image.

But after some wildly irresponsible and overwrought behavior by good guys and bad guys alike early in the show, things simmered down to a heart-to-heart morality play that was serviceable but watered down.

Anyhow, what makes this "second chance" story so different is that it turned out to be right. "The Debasers" was a big improvement over the earliest episodes in "Cain's Hundred." Can it be that now they know where they want to go?

I watch "The Dick Powell Show" even without the postal reminders. Tuesday night Peter Falk and Inger Stevens co-starred in "Price of Tomatoes," an hour that was filled with the gusty steam of life. It had credibility and compassion and managed to generate a high degree of excitement along the way.

And the hour had some thoroughly delightful performances. Falk portrayed a tough little truck driver with a heart of gold. He employed simple, human tones

Fun To Thaw From Winter Sports With Quick Chocolate Warm-Up

Take off your mittens and get set to thaw with a cup of Quick Chocolate Warm-Up and Snowball Cookies! Young or old, the gang will love this combination after wintry sports.

Quick Chocolate Warm-Up beverage is ready in an instant. To make it, use the same quick chocolate-flavored mix that's a favorite for flavoring milk, but make it with hot milk instead of cold. It's that easy. Simple, too, are the "snowballs," delicious little cookies that are crunchy with semi-sweet chocolate morsels.

Quick Chocolate Warm-Up

Put one 1-lb. can (around 4 cups) quick chocolate-flavored mix in 5-quart punch bowl. Gradually add 2 cups hot milk, stirring until blended. Stir in additional 3½ quarts (14 cups) hot milk. If desired, top with whipped cream or marshmallow cream. Yield: 16 servings.

Black and White Snowballs

¾ cup butter
½ cup sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped nuts

1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
Quick chocolate-flavored mix or confectioners' sugar

Cream together butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in egg and vanilla. Sift in flour and salt; mix well. Add nuts and semi-sweet chocolate morsels. Shape into 1-inch balls. Place on ungreased baking sheets. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Roll while warm in quick chocolate-flavored mix or in sifted confectioners' sugar. Yield: Approximately 5 dozen.

and gestures to build the part into a strong, palpable characterization. And Miss Stevens won my heart with her job as the—hold on, now—hitch-hiking, immigrant who was a widow and an expectant mother.

The Channel Swim: A two-hour motion picture becomes part of ABC-TV's Sunday night schedule beginning April 8. Fifteen feature-length films from the United Artists catalogue, including "Witness for the Prosecution," "Marty," "The Pride and the Passion," will be presented during a 24-week period. Reports indicate the new series may replace ABC-TV's "Bus Stop" and "Adventures in Paradise," but a final decision hasn't been made.

Joseph Schildkraut will portray an ailing pathologist in "The Stepping Stone," now being prepared for future airing in NBC-TV's "Dr. Kildare" series.

A special about the FBI is being produced by Warner Bros. for presentation on ABC-TV and subsequent release overseas as a motion picture. Filming starts later this month.

"Seeds of April," starring Gene Barry, Nina Foch, Beverly Garland and Keenan Wynn, is NBC-TV's "Dick Powell Show" for Tuesday, Feb. 13 . . . Scenes from "The Caretaker," Harold Pinter's controversial three-character Broadway play, will be included in a two-part study of the play on CBS-TV's "Accent" for Saturdays, Jan. 20 and 27.

Guinea-Cuba Pact

CONAKRY, Guinea (AP)—Guinea and Cuba have signed an agreement for $500,000 worth of trade in 1962. Products to be exchanged were not announced.

Quiz Show Winners Sentenced

NEW YORK (AP)—Ten cash-winning contestants on rigged TV quiz shows, including Charles Van Doren, today pleaded guilty to perjury charges and were given suspended sentences.

Their pleas constituted admission that they had been coached in answering the television quiz questions.

All of them had been scheduled for trial in Special Sessions Court today. But when they appeared, the court permitted them to change their pleas of innocent to guilty.

Justice Edward F. Breslin, adjudging them repentant and saying that they already had been deeply punished by humiliation, suspended sentence.

Van Doren, who won $129,000 on the now defunct TV program, "Twenty-One," was the first to switch his plea to guilty to a second-degree perjury charge, admitting that he lied to a grand jury probing the affair.

Van Doren, 35, is the son of the noted poet and writer, Mark Van Doren. He lost his job as a Columbia University instructor after the quiz show hoax was exposed in 1959.

The others receiving suspended sentences were:

Henry Bloomgarden, 31, a young medical research consultant who won $98,500 on "Twenty-One."

Elfrida von Nardoff, brunette Brooklyn student who won the record quiz total of $237,500 in 21 weeks on "Twenty-One."

David Mayer, 40, Manhattan psychologist, who won $47,500 on "Twenty-One."

Morton Harelik, 37, a Brooklyn salesman, who won $500 on "Tic Tac Dough."

Richard Klein, 41, an administrator of Brooklyn, who won $1,000 on "Twenty-One."

Neil S. Wolf, 22, of Hoboken, N.J., a student who won $13,000 on "Tic Tac Dough."

Terry Curtis, 31, Manhattan film producer who won $78,000 on "Hi-Lo."

Paul Bain, 43, Manhattan music teacher, who won $2,500 on "Twenty-One."

Patricia Nance, a housewife of Glen Head, N.Y., who won $5,800 on the "Tic Tac Dough" program.

The case against an 11th defendant, Ruth Klein, 30, a Manhattan housewife who won $2,200 on "Tic Tac Dough," was adjourned until Jan. 24 because she failed to appear today. Her attorney said she was ill.

The 10 cases handled today brought to 17 the number of contestants who have received suspended sentences after pleading guilty to lying to a grand jury investigating charges that the quiz shows were "fixed."

A spokesman for the district attorney's office said the suspended sentences carry no probationary period because the judge did not fix any length of jail term in suspending it.

Brothers Rescued

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Two young brothers were rescued from a pond here Tuesday by an alert carpenter after the youths fell through thin ice. Melvin Freeman, 40, of Elkins, Ark., waded into the pond and rescued Tim Copeland, 9, and Mark Copeland, 6, who were 20 feet from shore. They were apparently unharmed, officers said.

Food Sense Not Nonsense

Fat Cats Fight Back

Little doubt remains that America's youths are becoming fat cats. That they are not as fit as they could be is borne out by these scientific studies of the last decade: Japanese children excelled Iowans in physical tests . . . British girls, 10 to 12 years old, beat American boys in leg-power tests for endurance . . . Italian and Austrian youths surpassed Americans in physical fitness. The clincher for these studies was America's disappointing performance in the Olympics.

Teen-age delegates at the recent National Youthpower Congress fought a fat-cat status. In asking for help to achieve fitness, they took note of a king-sized obstacle in many schools: Physical education facilities oriented to team needs. Those not on the team often are neglected.

To be a fit cat calls for a personal fitness program, experts say, not elaborate gym equipment. Daily exercise and physical activity make up one phase of the fight. Nutrition is another.

If nutrition is inadequate, the basis for performance is affected. A thiamine deficiency, short but severe, seriously disturbs coordination. Vitamin A deficiency handicaps anyone whose eyes have to adapt to darkness. A calorie deficiency drops endurance to low levels and loss of strength is dramatic. To build your nutrition, eat from a variety of foods each day. A teenager should include at least

- 4 servings of enriched or whole grain bread or cereal
- 4 servings of fruit and vegetables
- 4 servings of milk or cheese
- 4 ounces of meat, fish, poultry, or dried peas or beans

Fat cats can become fit. Start with well-chosen food and exercise.

Highlights of Budget Message

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Highlights of President Kennedy's budget message for fiscal 1963, the year beginning next July 1:

BUDGET SURPLUS — Spending will total $92.5 billion, up $3.4 billion over the record level in the current fiscal year. Revenues are estimated at $93 billion, an increase of $10.9 billion over present levels. This results in an estimated surplus of about $500 million.

SPENDING SHIFT — Reductions in spending for farm programs, the postal deficit and temporary extended unemployment compensation permits increases for education, health, housing and natural resource development "without raising significantly total expenditures for domestic civil functions."

DEFENSE SPENDING — Defense budget is up $1.5 billion for the current fiscal year to $52.7 billion.

SHELTER PROGRAM — The defense budget contains $700 million for a shelter program designed to make space available for 50-million persons. This includes $400 for a cost-sharing program with state and local governments.

MILITARY ASSISTANCE — Military assistance expenditures are declining to an estimated $1.4 billion in 1963 compared with $2.2 billion five years earlier. The more industrialized European countries have almost completely taken over the cost of their own armament.

FOREIGN AID — "Expenditures for economic and financial assistance to the developing nations of the world have been increasing and are estimated at $2.5 billion in 1963. These expenditures will rise further in later years as development loan commitments being made currently are drawn upon."

ALLIANCE FOR PROGRESS — Long-term authorization of $3 billion proposed for the Alliance for Progress during the next four years. Total support for Alliance for Progress during fiscal 1963 estimated at more than $1 billion, including Food for Peace program and loans from Export-Import Bank and Inter-American Development Bank.

SPACE RESEARCH — An increase of $1.1 billion for space research to $2.4 billion to continue "a major stepup in the programs of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration" such fields as communications and meteorology and in the most dramatic effort of all—mastery of space symbolized by an attempt to send a man to the moon and back safely to earth.

FARM SPENDING — Reduces the budget for farm programs from $6.3 billion in the current fiscal year to $5.8 billion in fiscal 1963 in anticipation of savings from new farm proposals "which shall be presenting to Congress."

NATURAL RESOURCES — "Estimated expenditures of $2.3 billion in this budget for the conservation and development of our natural resources are higher than in any previous year."

COMMERCE — Spending on commerce and transportation programs was cut from $2.9 billion currently to $2.5 billion in fiscal 1963, mainly due to an expected $593 million increase in postal rates.

TAX ENFORCEMENT — "Aside from revenue gains based on

Train Slices Truck in Half

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—A passenger train sliced through a big grain truck so doltily Tuesday the driver of the truck and his helper hardly felt it.

Gene Wilson, 29, a trucker from Sterling, Colo., said there was a sudden drag after his tractor crossed the tracks. He and Cliff Radcliff, 30, got out to investigate and found a Missouri Pacific train standing between the front half of the grain trailer and the rear half.

Arkla Adds 100,000 Customers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. said today that it had grown by more than 100,000 customers during 1961.

A year-end report by W. R. (Witt) Stephens, president and board chairman, said this brought the total of Arkla customers to near the 600,000 mark in some 400 consumers in Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

This is almost double the total for five years ago, the report said.

The 1961 increase was due largely to mergers by which Arkla took over some 49,000 customers served by Mid South Gas Co. and some 45,000 by Southwest Natural Gas Co. of Shreveport.

During 1961 some $27 million was invested in various construction involving the gas company and its subsidiaries, according to the report.

Almost half was spent in Arkansas.

Besides gas gathering and transmission expenditures, the total included nearly $7 million spent on expansion of Arkansas Cement Corp. plant at Foreman.

Other items noted in the report included beginning of operation of "Line T," a 125-mile gas transmission line from Perla Station, near Malvern, to Helena; construction of a gas meter servicing plant and pipeline maintenance facility at Sheridan and beginning production of gas meters at a new plant in Russellville.

economic expansion, there will be larger revenue collections as a result of strengthening the Internal Revenue Service with additional enforcement personnel. Collections are estimated to be increased $300 million during 1963 because of this effort.

DEBT LIMIT — "To make the usual allowance for a margin of flexibility I urge prompt enactment of a temporary increase of the debt limit to $308 billion, to be available for the remainder of this year and throughout fiscal 1963." The present temporary debt limit is $295 billion.

FEDERAL SALARIES — "To enable the government to obtain and keep high quality personnel," President Kennedy proposed a new salary schedule to "bring career employee salaries at all except the very top career levels into reasonable comparability with private enterprise salaries for the same level of work." He also directed a review of military pay scales to determine whether they should be adjusted.

TAX REFORM — Urged that tax reform proposals recommended last year be enacted early in this session of Congress.

TAXES — He repeated his State of the Union request for discretionary authority to reduce personal income tax rates as an anti-inflation measure.

Facts About State From U. S. Census

By JOHN JUTTON

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—When the Census Bureau made its nose count in Arkansas during 1960, it took in more details than most people would imagine.

For instance, the bureau reports, 360,000 Arkansans while to work daily in private cars while 72,000 others walk.

And of the 454,000 people enrolled in Arkansas educational institutions, nearly six per cent, or 11,112, are between the ages of 25 and 34.

Arkansas' 1960 population was 1,786,272 and of this number, 134,048 persons reported they've always lived in the same house. There are 33,700 persons living in Arkansas who were born abroad including 1,007 who came from Russia.

Other countries from which Arkansans emigrated include Italy, 2,561; Germany, 9,625; Ireland, 1, 173; Czechoslovakia, 962; and England, 4,433.

However, 1.3 million persons told the Census Bureau they were Arkansas-born.

While the average Arkansan over 25 years old has 8.9 years of schooling, 25,790 residents report no formal education.

Between one and four years of elementary education is claimed by 122,422 persons while 46,165 finished four years of college.

The Little Rock-North Little Rock area enjoys the highest median pay scale at $4,935 although 26 per cent of the workers in the area receive less than $3,000.

Overall pay scale for 452,471 Arkansas families in 1960 showed a $3,184 median, while 64,041 families earned under $1,000.

Nearly 25,000 families fall into the $10,000 and up bracket. During 1960, there were slightly more than 532,000 white males earning an income in Arkansas with the median at $2,135. The non-white male income median was $993 for 96,077 workers. And nearly 340,000 white women workers showed a median scale of $704 while the non-white female median was only $455.

Slayer Tells Why He Tried to Escape

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark.

(AL)—Prison officials said Tuesday Charles F. Fields told them he tried to escape Monday because the state Pardons and Poles Board consistently had refused to recommend commutation of his life sentence.

Fields killed a Chicot County farmer and raped a farm wife during 90 minutes of freedom. New charges against him are being prepared by Prosecutor E. W. Brockman Jr., at Pine Bluff.

Fields, 35, was sent to prison in 1947 for raping a Yellville housewife.

In practice parole officials in Arkansas do not consider commutation for a life term until he has served seven years. Since Fields passed that milestone seven years ago, he has tried to get his sentence reduced each year.

His latest request was rejected

Jan. 3. He could not have applied again for a year.

Prison Supt. Lee Henslee said Fields had been a model prisoner. He was made a trustee, put in charge of prison farm hogs and given a pistol to protect the hogs from stray dogs.

It was this pistol he used to slay C. A. Mencer of near Halley during the break Monday.

Henslee said the Fields case would not result in guns being taken away from other trustees; some of whom use them to guard other prisoners.

"They get out of prisons where they don't give them guns," Henslee said. He added that the trusty system is a vital part of Arkansas' prison operation.

Henslee said Fields had had several Christmas furloughs and came back each time.

This time it appeared as if he were back for good. He is being held for security purposes in the prison's death row.

The popular song "On the Banks of the Wabash" was written by Paul Dreiser, brother of the novelist Theodore Dreiser.

Measles Cases Running Ahead

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The State Board of Health said today the number of measles cases reported during the first two weeks of this year was running almost 2-1 ahead of last year's figures.

The board said 160 cases already had been reported in the state this year, compared to 83 during the corresponding period last year.

Measles cases reported last week, however, dropped to two after a high of 156 for the previous week.

The board said cases of chickenpox also had increased over the number reported during the first two weeks of last year, with 62 recorded in 1962, compared to 11 in 1961.

Other diseases on which the board keeps records are running at about the same level reported last year.

The world's oldest national anthem is thought to be the Netherlands' "Wilhelmus van Nassouwe,"

Grounds Seem a Bit Far-fetched

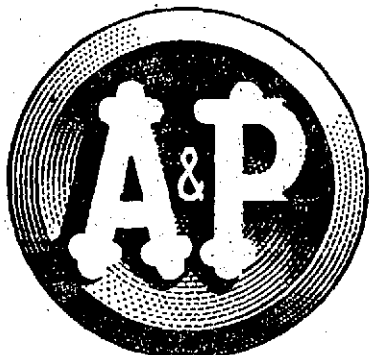

TULSA, Okla. (AP) Judge Raymond W. Graham granted Evelyn Jones, 27, a divorce from Ernest Jones Tuesday but said the basis for the petition was "the most amazing I've ever seen."

"That a husband and father of 11 children should be guilty of incompatibility does injustice to the term," said Judge Graham. The couple married when Mrs. Jones was 13 and has children aged 12, 11, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, and 1.

Racial Trouble in Germany

ERLANGEN, Germany (AP)—Students from African and Asian countries have protested against color bars they say have been raised by restaurant owners in this little Bavarian university town.

The foreign students office of Erlangen University said the protest was lodged after a number of African and Asian students had been thrown out of inns or were refused service.

Something Special for Coffee — Orange Marmalade Ring Loaf

At a local benefit auction recently, a fresh loaf of homebaked bread went for a high price. The enthusiastic bidding reminded us just how much people love fresh, homemade goodies.

If people are willing to outbid each other like that, you can bet they'll enjoy a treat from your own oven when they stop by for coffee. Why not oblige with this delicious Orange Marmalade Ring Loaf at the next kaffeklatsch?

Besides sweet orange marmalade, the loaf is baked with nuts and topped, if you choose, with a thin sugar icing. For a spread, cut cream cheese in the hole in the center. With a bread like this, of course, the coffee should be your very best — rich, freshly brewed and still steaming hot when it's poured.

Orange Marmalade Ring Loaf

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour

2 teaspoons baking powder

2/3 teaspoon baking soda

1/2 cup coarsely chopped nuts

1 egg, slightly beaten

1 cup orange marmalade

1/2 cup evaporated milk

1 tablespoon vinegar

1 tablespoon melted butter

Mix and sift flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Stir in nuts. Combine remaining ingredients. Add to flour-nut mixture. Stir only until blended. Turn into greased 8-oz. ring mold. Bake in moderate oven, 350°, 45 minutes. Remove from mold. Cool several hours before serving. If desired, frost with thin confectioners' sugar icing and fill center with cream cheese.
